MARINA issues rules on allocated space, discount for food, agri cargoes

THE Maritime Industry Authority (MARINA) rolled out guidelines for a Department of Transportation (DOTr) order directing all domestic shipping lines to allocate vessel space for and extend a discount to all agricultural and food products.

MARINA Advisory (MA) No. 2020-54, dated July 22 and signed by Administrator Robert Empedrad, operationalizes DOTr Department Order (DO) No. 2020-007 issued on June 24. DO 2020-007 ordered all domestic carriers to extend a 40% shipping rate discount and allocate at least 12% cargo capacity per voyage to all agricultural and food products.

MA 2020-54, which takes effect 15 days after its publication on July 25, covers all liner services as defined under the 2014 amendments to the implementing rules and regulations of Republic Act (RA) 9295 or the Domestic Shipping Act of 2004.

Cargoes covered under MA 2020-54 are agricultural and food products shipped in whatever manner or form, such as, but not limited to, roll-on/roll-off (Ro-Ro) cargoes and conventional cargoes (whether loose or bulk).

Agricultural and food products are defined as any product or commodity, raw or processes, marketed for human consumption, except water, salt, and additives. Animal feeds are not con-

Senate oks Bayanihan 2 Act on 3rd reading

THE Senate has approved on third and final reading the bill extending government programs designed to fight the coronavirus disease (COVID-19).

Senate Bill (SB) 1564 or the Bayanihan to Recover as One Act (Bayanihan 2) will effectively extend validity of the government's COVID-19 programs and interventions under Republic Act 11469 or the Bayanihan to Heal as One Act, which lapsed on June 5, 2020.

The measure grants the same concessions provided under Bayanihan Act 1 but includes new provisions such as grants for regulatory fees, including reduction in rates through removal of value-added tax (VAT) and local taxes, and fees and charges imposed by any regulatory agency and local government unit (LGU).

As with the first Bayanihan to Heal Act, SB 1564 will once more:

- exempt medical supplies and equipment from import duties and taxes
- liberalize grant of incentives for the manufacture or importation of critical or needed equipment or supplies, including healthcare equipment
- ensure availability of essential goods, in particular food and medicine, by adopting measures necessary to facilitate and/or minimize supply chain disruption
- move deadlines and timelines for the filing and submission of any document, payment of taxes, fees, and other charges required by law, and the grant of any benefit to ease the burden on individuals under community quarantines.

New under Bayanihan 2 is the Department of Transportation (DOTr) and other agencies' ability to extend the following assistance to critically impacted businesses in the transportation industry:

- emergency credit lines to fund operations
- low interest loans or long-term credit facility for debt restructuring and rehabilitation
- credit guarantee schemes to guarantee bank loans and credit lines
- grants for applicable regulatory fees
- substitution of refund option to travel vouchers
- grants for fuel subsidy, as may be necessary
- grants for training, equipment, facilities, test kits and necessary personnel to cope with increased health risks arising from infectious diseases

The loan and/or loan guarantee programs and other loan-related measures that will be provided under Bayanihan 2 should be used exclusively for critically impacted business in the transportation industry.

The DOTr is also directed to:

- produce a master list of all displaced and critically-impacted transport workers under the road, rail, air and maritime sectors to effectively implement distribution of wage subsidies and cash-for-work program;
- work with financial institutions for possible restructuring of loans without penalty and provide credit lines and low interest loans to help critically-impacted transport service providers; and
- coordinate with transport service providers and LGUs to negotiate service contracting of public utility vehicles (PUV) as a form of temporary livelihood to workers displaced by restrictions and reduced capacity of public transportation, and other forms of arrangement to ensure preservation of livelihood in the transport sector.

No phaseout of anytype of PUV

The proposed law also prohibits the phaseout--at the national and local level--of any type of PUV as the industry transitions to a new normal.

In addition to funds that will be raised under Section 3 of Bayanihan 2 worth P140 billion, a P236-billion standby fund will be appropriated to support operation and response measures to address the COVID-19 pandemic. Of this total, P15 billion will support wholesale banking and equity infusion of the Development Bank of the Philippines for low-interest loans to be extended to persons and entities engaged in industries affected by the pandemic, including air, land and sea transportation, retail, trade, accommodation and tourism services and micro, small, and medium enterprises.

"With Bayanihan 2, the government would be assured of sufficient funding for the ramped up testing for COVID-19 and for contact tracing. It will also ensure that our valiant health workers who contract or succumb to the disease will continuously receive financial support," SB 1564 principal author Juan Edgardo Angara said.

The measure also allows government to continue providing assistance to Filipino businesses and workers impacted by the pandemic, including repatriated or suspended OFWs.

Once signed into law, Bayanihan 2 will be effective until September 30.

The House of Representatives has yet to pass their counterpart bill. – Roumina Pablo

LTO extends validity of expiring motor vehicle registration

THE Land Transportation Office (LTO) further extended validity of expiring registration of certain motor vehicles due to the coronavirus disease (COVID-19) pandemic.

LTO on June 24 issued memo circular 202-2193 extending validity of registration of motor vehicles with renewal schedules from June to October. These are specifically for vehicles with plate numbers ending in 6, 7, 8, 9 and 0.

Under the circular, all motor vehicles with plate numbers ending in 6 or those scheduled for renewal in June in the National Capital Region, Laguna, Cebu, and Region III get a 30-day extended registration validity. This is on top of the 60-day extension given by LTO from the date the agency resumed work on June 3, 2020. This means vehicles with plates ending in 6 have an extended registration deadline of up to September 3, 2020.

Motor vehicles with plate numbers ending in 7, 8, 9 and 0 in all LTO offices also get an extension of 30 days for renewal registration. The 30-day extension is effective from their expiration as follows:

- Plates ending in 7- from July 31 adjusted to August 31
- Plates ending in 8- from August adjusted to September 30
- Plates ending in 9-from September 30 adjusted to October 31
- Plates ending in 0- from October 31 to November 30 2020

No penalty and surcharge will be collected for renewal transactions within the revised schedule.

LTO assistant secretary Edgar Galvante appealed to motorists to follow the revised renewal schedule and not wait for the deadline.

"Aside from considering the financial health of motorists, we have crafted this schedule so that we can create a systematic and organized process of renewal of motor vehicle registration in all our offices. This is also to ensure that the clients' and our employees' welfare are well-protected at all cost," Galvante said.

"We are continuously extending the validity and the period for renewal of registration of motor vehicles since March. This is in adherence to the directive of Secretary [Arthur] Tugade, at the start of the community quarantine, to consider the health and economic crisis we are facing," Galvante said in a statement.

sidered agricultural and food products. Under MA 2020-54, all domestic shipping lines should extend a discount of at least 40% of their published rate on agricultural and food cargoes shipped under the 12% allocated space.

In case of inter-port operation, the vessel should be considered compliant with the requirement at the port where the 12% space allocation was utilized irrespective of whether it is the point of origin or the subsequent port of call. This rule will likewise apply to the preferential rate of 40% discount.

Shipping lines may opt to offer for pre-payment/hard blocking the 12% allocated cargo space for the purpose of applying the 40% discount.

The shipowner/operator may also offer the cargo space allocation to other shippers for other types of cargoes should the minimum threshold of 12% is not fully utilized within 12 hours prior to departure of a particular voyage. The 12% allocated cargo space will be granted on a first come, first served basis.

Explain basis

The Anti-Red Tape Authority (ARTA) recently requested DOTr to explain the basis for the issuance of DO 2020-007 after the Philippine Inter-island Shipping Association (PISA) in a complaint said the order "appeared flawed", "was issued allegedly without proper consultation and without any factual or legal basis" and poses a threat to financial viability of shipping lines. It said member shipping lines already carry agricultural and food products at more than 12% of their cargo capacity.

In addition, PISA said the legal requirement of prior public consultation under the Revised Penal Code "was not observed as stakeholders, especially those that will be adversely affected, was not consulted prior to its issuance." Sought for comment, DOTr assistant secretary for Communication and Commuter Affairs Goddes Hope Libiran told PortCalls DOTr fully complied with requirements of the law when it issued DO 2020-007. In a position paper on DO 2020-07 dated July 13 and submitted to DOTr,

PISA sought suspension of the order, saying it was "compelled to make this request as it clearly appears that the subject DO was issued without thorough regulatory impact assessments."

PISA explained its members did not increase basic freight rates during the enhanced community quarantine/general community quarantine periods "despite experiencing substantial reduction in volumes—more or less 70%--and significant reduction in the frequency of its voyages, and despite continuing to incur fixed costs for crew salaries, food supplies, fuel, etc."

It added, "Some ships are even constrained to be laid up and remain at anchorage but are constrained to paying fixed PPA [Philippine Ports Authority] usage fees as well as for piled up storage cargoes on shipments that cargo owners cannot retrieve due to transport border restrictions, facing ships to queue for 3 to 5 days at some outports."

PISA said the mandate on which the DO was based appeared flawed since RA 11469 or the Bayanihan to Heal as One Act, has already expired and has yet to be extended.

Moreover, PISA said prescribing the 40% discount on rates and mandating the 12% cargo allocation, "the DO overstepped the mandate under (RA) 11469."

The association noted that a section under RA 11469 authorizing the President through his alter egos (department secretaries) to "regulate and limit the operation of all sectors of transportation…" was interpreted as allowing the regulation of domestic shipping, including its rates.

And yet domestic shipping under RA 9295 has already been deregulated.

PISA claimed the provision under RA 11469 in question "is the limited operation of public transport—i.e. which ships can sail insofar as sea transport is concerned—during the period of state of public health emergency under Proclamation No. 992."

As to the purpose of the DO to "help ensure the viability of food production and delivery thereof," PISA noted "there was no factual data to support that there ever was a threat to the transport nor distribution of food nor has food supply been precariously low at any region/area in the country."

It said a table presented by the Department of Trade and Industry (DTI) in a meeting showed production capacity and inventory levels were maintained for essential food items such as coffee, bread, canned meat, sardines, among others.

PISA also asked government to provide the basis for the 40% discount of rates and why it imposed the discount "only on domestic shipping when it is but a 'part' of the whole logistics chain."

Shipping, it pointed out, "is only a fraction of the total cost of products. Accounting for a substantial portion of transport cost is land/trucking transport and cargo handling costs which should be discounted as well to make much difference in ensuring the viability of food production and delivery."

Moreover, PISA said DTI has "clearly established that there was no rate increase imposed by the shipping lines, so how can the rates be deemed excessive?"

It said, "It must be further noted that any change in price will not necessarily translate to a proportionate response in demand such that shipping freight is not elastic. What is true though is that the plight of the domestic shipping remains uncertain."

The association lamented the "painful reality that to this date government has taken domestic shipping for granted," noting this is despite domestic shipping efforts to cooperate and participate in government endeavors such as supertyphoon Yolanda relief efforts, and efforts to help COVID-19 quarantine operations and "Balik Probinsya" program, among others.

Finally PISA complained that the legal requirement of prior public consultation under the Revised Penal Code "was not observed as stakeholders, especially those that will be adversely affected, was not consulted prior to its issuance."

DOTr's Libiran, however, disputed this claim. She explained the requirement for consultation is provided under second paragraph of Section 9, Chapter 2, Book VII, of Executive Order No. 292: "[i]n the fixing of rates, no rule or final order shall be valid unless the proposed rates shall have been published in a newspaper of general circulation at least two (2) weeks before the first hearing thereon."

She noted, however, that the first paragraph of the same section also provides that, "[i]f not otherwise required by law, an agency shall, as far as practicable, publish or circulate notices of proposed rules and afford interested parties the opportunity to submit their views prior to the adoption of any rule."

Libiran explained: "The Administrative Code itself acknowledges the demands of public participation and affords agencies reasonable leeway in affording interested parties the opportunity to submit their views on any rule. With the pervasive and persistent dangers of COVID-19 alongside the urgent need to ensure the availability of agricultural and food products for the consumption of the citizens, it is understandable that the Department has also been constrained to immediately adopt measures to safeguard the interests of the public, who bear the brunt of community quarantine measures and whose situation may be eased by the subject DO."

She noted the Supreme Court has emphasized the importance of publication in the promulgation of laws and rules, citing the case between the National Association of Electricity Consumers for Reforms and Energy Regulatory Commission, where the Court said that even with the conduct of public consultations with the stakeholders, as long as publication has not been undertaken, such consultations are effectively irrelevant.

"With the publication of the subject DO, the essential objective of due process to inform the stakeholders and the public can be achieved in these unprecedented times," Libiran said. ARTA deputy director general for Legal Atty. Ernesto Perez, in a letter to Transport Secretary Arthur Tugade dated July 20, said to guide ARTA in its assessment, it is requesting DOTr or a position paper and other supporting documents detailing the policy development of DO 2020-007 within seven working days.

Perez pointed out ARTA is still developing the National Policy on Regulatory Management System, which provides for mechanisms necessary in the implementation of the Regulatory Impact Assessment across all agencies covered by Republic Act 11032 (Ease of Doing Business and Efficient Government Service Delivery Act of 2018.)

"While the National Policy is still being developed, the Authority enjoins all government agencies to implement regulations designed to prevent undue regulatory burden in keeping with the Declaration of Policy of RA11032 and its provisions addressing ineffective or detrimental regulations, rules and administrative procedures or systems," Perez said. - Roumina Pablo

Follow the Customer

SCMAP PERSPECTIVE

WHILE planning the most recent edition of SCMAP Live, our online event series, it emerged that the most important consideration for logistics providers, in particular, to dip their feet into the growing e-commerce market is to consider what their customers need. This may seem daunting if you think about how the biggest players in the online shopping space have access to terabytes (possibly) of information on customer behaviors, preferences and habits, as well as access to the most sophisticated analytics tools, but even the smallest players can start entering the fray by considering two things.

The first: find your niche. It may be difficult for logistics providers right now to serve the biggest online retailers at the moment—the likes of Lazada and Shopee have a high volume of deliveries and returns, and have a nationwide reach, and that's definitely daunting if you're looking to get into e-commerce. But they are far from the only options. We've been seeing services dedicated to particular goods and services—take MetroMart for grocery shopping—and there are much more opportunities in the wings as more enter e-commerce out of necessity.

Here's an example. I have been following the local indie music scene for the past few years and, in several instances, bought some CDs direct from the musicians. (Yes, there are streaming services like Spotify, but I'm one of those guys who still tries to buy his music physically, if possible. Should I be disenfranchised by the shift to digital?) Often I order from the artists themselves, which led me to thinking: do they have the time to sort out my order, when they could be pursuing their creative passions and making music instead? What if, say, there was a company that brought together all these artists, particularly the ones not signed to a record label, and sorted out their e-commerce requirements? I paid for one album by depositing my payment at a bank—this was the time when online banking wasn't as pervasive as today—and thought that it would be better if I could use my credit card to buy it online and then have it delivered to me.

Our increased reliance on delivery services during the COVID-19 pandemic puts in the forefront the need for more bespoke solutions to bringing us the items we need (and want). My girlfriend bought some plants and we believed one of them got "stressed" when it was delivered via courier service. There's an idea: a delivery service that will take extra care of the leafy friends of your closest "plantita". Or what about a set-up that will ensure the food you ordered will stay warm as it reaches your house? Important, especially if you're craving for food from a restaurant that's several cities away and therefore a little harder to get to. But maybe the folks at Grab or Foodpanda have been thinking of something better than their insulated boxes.

The second: be transparent. Remember that one of the biggest hurdles for both consumers and businesses in entering e-commerce is the lack of information. How long will my deliveries take to arrive? How much will my shipping costs be? Logistics service providers are the gateway to this information, and can therefore be of much help, especially to businesses looking to enter the fray.

My brother's girlfriend, who is a preschool teacher, recently started selling "busy books" for children, something to keep them occupied during the lockdowns and bridge the gap while schools are closed. Her biggest initial hurdle was shipping: her first customer was from Davao, and her second customer came all the way from Canada! She had to be upfront to them about shipping charges, to manage expectations and to ensure the customer feels looked after.

At the dinner table, she, my brother, me and my girlfriend—no, this isn't a couple date—ended up discussing how she can manage the increasing demand for her business. There is information available online, but sometimes you will have to dig deep. Say, PHLPOST's rates are reasonable even if you're looking to send a package abroad—and long lead times aside, it is reliable for the most part. On your end, you will just have to ensure your shipment fits the prescribed dimensions and is packed in a way that will ensure its quality stays the same as it is delivered. When you've standardized this, you can factor this into the shipping charge—and then tell your customers just what that charge entails. The customer will know that the fees are justified and may even come away with an appreciation of the service and the product.

For logistics service providers, this means thoroughly explaining these costs to businesses looking to deliver, and to provide a guiding hand along the way. This will be a win-win: the business gets a much wider market, and the LSP gets new business. It will take a fair bit of imagination for all of us to make the most of the new opportunities e-commerce provides—ones that have been boosted by this pandemic. In these difficult times, we have to make the most of what we have, and also, think outside the box.

Announcing #SCC20 Live: The most prestigious event in Philippine supply chain returns this October in a new format reflecting these extraordinary times. #SCC20 Live will be composed of three online events—on October 8, 15 and 22—that will look ahead to supply chain's important role as we weather this pandemic and prepare for recovery. Total Digitalization Is Inevitable

By AMIT MAHESHWARI, CEO, Softlink Global

IT IN LOGISTICS

THE COVID-19 pandemic has pushed customs broking and logistics companies to turn to technology for future proofing of their businesses.

Technology has helped companies of all sizes to be agile and more adaptive to business challenges. But in the emerging post-pandemic scenario just the automation of freight, customs broking and logistics business operations is simply not enough. Companies in the future will also require automation of all work processes. Anything short of total digitalization may prove harmful to a company's chances of success.

Automation of work processes simply means automating everyday activities of employees, enabling seamless collaboration and communication. Every organization has its own work process that has evolved over the years. Not all activities are automated when the business automation is undertaken.

By introducing digitalization of the workflow, it is possible for companies to automate the entire work process so that total digitalization is achieved. Supplementary activities of employees also get digitalized with the workflow automation. Even the sales and on-field operations staff are absorbed in the automation system, eliminating all manual processes. The post-pandemic situation makes total digitalization inevitable if companies wish to emerge stronger.

Total digitalization will fundamentally change the way freight, customs broking and logistics companies operate and compete. Freight, customs brokers and logistics companies can aggressively expand their digital capabilities to fill the gaps of their current automation. Digitalization is an enabler that will allow companies to meet customer expectations across the supply chain effortlessly.

To stay ahead of the competition as well as thrive under a crisis like COVID-19, it is time for companies to accelerate implementation of total digitalization.

Amit Maheshwari's many years of domain knowledge, vision and deep understanding of logistics marks him as a major thought leader in the industry. Under his leadership, Softlink Global has become a leading global logistics software provider. One of his major creations LogiSys is a comprehensive ERP for the freight and logistics industry that has become a global success.

Clark aviation complex locators enjoy 3-month rent deferral

CLARK International Airport Corp. (CIAC) is deferring lease rental collection for Clark Civil Aviation Complex (CCAC) locators from April to June.

The move is in response to President Rodrigo Duterte's appeal during his recent State of the Nation Address for government agencies to assist the business sector adversely affected by the coronavirus disease (COVID-19) pandemic.

"We currently have about 45 locators and we told them that they don't have to right now pay their rentals for the months of April to June this year, and they also do not need to worry about paying any interests or penalties on delayed payments," CIAC president Aaron Aquino said in a statement.

"We hope this policy will serve as a springboard for businesses here at the aviation complex to promptly recover from the sudden business disruption and income loss caused by the pandemic," he added.

In addition to deferred collection of lease rentals during the quarantine period, Aquino said CIAC locators enjoy a 30-day grace period from the last due date of their rental payments or from the date of the lifting of the enhanced community quarantine (ECQ), modified ECQ, and general community quarantine, whichever is longer, without incurring interest.

After the grace period, locators may opt to pay their unsettled accounts through a 12-month installment scheme, he added.

"This means the amount of rentals accrued by locators during the ECQ, MECQ and GCQ can be equally amortized in twelve months following the end of the 30-day grace period, and again without interest or penalties," Aquino said.

For outstanding accounts as of March 15, 2020 or old unpaid accounts prior to imposition of the ECQ, CIAC will grant a 90-calendar day grace period for payment, with no interest or penalty imposed from March 16 up to June 15.

Aquino said these policies will be applied while awaiting guidelines from the Department of Trade Industry on the request of both the Clark Development Corp. and the Bases Conversion Development Authority to allow the grant of full waiver on payment of lease rentals from April to June 2020.

The CCAC is managed by CIAC and is home to privately-run Clark International Airport, as well as the mixed-use business district Clark Global City and 45 locators in cargo and aviation-related businesses.

Metro Manila, Cebu City under GCQ from Aug 1 to 15

METRO MANILA remains under general community quarantine (GCQ) from August 1 to 15, President Rodrigo Duterte announced in a televised address on July 31.

From modified enhanced community quarantine (MECQ), Cebu City restrictions will also be eased to GCQ from August 1 to 15.

Other areas under GCQ are Bulacan, Batangas, Cavite, Laguna, and Rizal for Luzon; Lapu-Lapu City, Mandaue City, Talisay City, Minglanilla and Consolacion for the Visayas; and Zamboanga City for Mindanao.

The rest of the country will remain under modified GCQ (MGCQ) until August 15. GCQ is less stricter than MECQ. MGCQ, on the other hand, is the transition phase to the "new normal."

For Metro Manila and Region IV-A to maintain their GCQ classification, the National Task Force (NTF), Department of Interior and Local Government, and Coordinated Operations to Defeat Epidemic Teams will implement in areas with high community transmission a strictly localized lockdown/ECQ in barangays where 80% of cases are located.

Part of the measures to be adopted are stringent enforcement of minimum health standards; massive targeted testing, intensified tracing, and quarantine of close contacts; isolation of confirmed cases; and strict adherence to Oplan Kalinga implementation. Government hospitals in Metro Manila and Region 1V-A were directed to increase the number of hospital beds dedicated to coronavirus disease (COVID-19) patients to between 30% and 50%, private hospitals to between 20% and 30%.

Health undersecretary Leopoldo Vega, also the NTF Treatment Czar, was directed to monitor compliance of hospitals.

Local government units (LGUs) were required to submit daily updates and weekly comprehensive reports containing daily trend of active cases, number and percent of population; and cases in community isolation facility versus health facility versus home for priority areas or barangays under localized lockdown.

Metrics to be submitted by LGUs are the percentage of close contacts traced and percentage of contacts in quarantine; number of utilization of community isolation beds; met health system capacity targets utilization; and COVID Special Teams investigations and results.
